

Garden REVERIE

Daydreams of four atmospheric idylls come alive with new furnishings for all-season lounging and entertaining.

A Divine Riviera Stroll

Wispy grasses, bursts of French lavender, pea gravel paths crunching underfoot: In this Ligurian Neverland, classical marble-finish tables, knotty faux-bois seating, and all the aged stone one can gather give rise to leisurely morning rambles, caff   in hand.

A Fragrant Riad Repast

In a Moroccan-inspired courtyard scented with jasmine vines and orange trees, garden ghdas (lunches) extend long after plates have been cleared. Conversation around an intimate, Giacometti-style table rolls into afternoon snoozes on cushy, faux-cane chaises, dreams of nearby souks floating in as guests stretch out and drift off.

A Cool Caribbean Sojourn

Reprieves from blindingly sunny days are paved in crushed shells and mottled limestone. Tucked beneath sky-high palms, furniture appears painted by the sea—or Oliver Messel himself, one might overhear at cocktail hour. Verbena wraps verdigris lanterns and giltwood antiques, like treasures from a faraway grotto.

A Serene Thai Meditation

Like The White Lotus's Southeast Asian conceit—but far more peaceful—a bamboo-laden oasis with crimson tropicals and leafy ferns invites reflection. Woven and rattan-style pieces nod to the region's palms, burbling fountains to the power of tranquility.
